BIG PROJECT

One of the largest office buildings in the world will be the principal security for two bond issues, totaling $12,000,000, it is announced. The building is the Graybar in New York, and the issues, $10,000,000 Eastern Office, Inc., first mortgage bond and $2,000,000 serial mortgage bond held 5 1/2 per cent bonds. Graham, Parsons & Co., Eastern Office, Inc., are the owners of the building.

VEGETABLE PRICES DROP DURING WEEK

Only Break in Local Market Situation; Strawberries at Low Level

Reductions in prices of many of the fresh vegetables early in the week, provided the only break in the market activities here this week. Cabbage, which had been holding at 10 cents for many weeks, dropped to eight cents, the low point of the season, while old potatoes dropped from 35 cents a peck to from 25 to 30 cents. New potatoes, also showed some change. Good quality stock which was selling at five pounds for 25 cents early in the week was being offered as low as 45 cents a peck.

Cucumbers, which had held at 20 and 25 cents each for several weeks, dropped to two for 15 and 25 cents in the general decline early in the week. Leaf vegetables are holding their own. Aside from some being offered as leeks, leaf vegetables finished the week at about the same prices as prevailed early in the week. Leaf lettuce sold at 10 cents all week and head lettuce at 10, 15 and 20 cents this week. Kale was plentiful all week and sold at two pounds for 25 cents.

Strawberries reached the low level of the season early in the week when berries of fairly good quality sold as low as 12 1/2 cents a quart. The middle of the week found a slight advance being reported and 15 cents was the bottom price. Dealers report little sale of the cheaper stock, most of the buyers preferring the better quality berries which sold at 20 cents or two quarts for 35 cents.

Watermelons, scarce during the early part of the week, became more plentiful as the week advanced and dealers were carrying fairly large supplies that were selling slowly at from $1 to $1.50, a slight decrease from the price of earlier in the week.

EXPECT VAST SAVING IN STREET PROJECTS

Million of dollars may be saved cities of the United States through the application of standard street construction, maintenance and operation methods, it is believed. The City Official Division, which will be organized in Washington on June 8, will have standardization of methods and material as well as traffic control as its principal objectives.

EQUIPMENT OF MODERN TYPE

High Standard Policy Followed by Local Undertaking Firm

C. E. Curtis & Co. have long been well known to Marion and Marion County residents. The present company came into existence some nine years ago, taking over the business of Curtis & Curtis, an organization which began business in Marion 17 years ago in rooms on East Center at now occupied by Romoser's Tin Shop. Three years ago the company moved into its present quarters.

C. E. Curtis & Co. have always endeavored to serve the public in every way possible consistent with the policies of highest grade funeral and ambulance service, as they believe that only through conducting a service of this kind in the highest class way is a firm justified in being in business.

It is seldom that a city the size of Marion is so fortunate as to have a concern of this kind which serves the public capably and yet are so reasonable in its charges.

When misfortune happens to us or our friends we want to have only the best service that money will buy and we do not question the cost. And in not questioning the cost we open ourselves to overcharges unless the operators of such establishments are men of high character and fair business practices.

Fair Treatment Assured

In dealing with C. E. Curtis & Co. you need not fear that you will be taken advantage of for they realize that in time of need that you must have help, not extra burdens, and you can trust them to treat you fairly and squarely.

The picture appearing on this page shows the C. E. Curtis & Co. invalid car standing in front of the Marion City Hospital. This invalid car was made by the Rogers-Servell Co. of Chicago, makers of some of the best and most modern invalid cars in America. This car is at your service day or night whenever you may want it. A call will bring it for you within a very few minutes.

It is a part of the Curtis plan to have the best service and equipment as is humanly possible.

Few people in Marion realize the great service that this invalid car service, in cooperation with the hospital, play in saving of lives during the course of a year. The invalid coach, with its attendants, gets patients to the hospital quickly and safely, and in the hospital home it or in the service only the utmost of care and attention helps until the patient is ready to be taken home.

The Curtis establishment is ever ready to serve you. Call them if you need them.

CEARINGS LOWER

Week Total Approximately $20,000 Below Last Week's Figure

A reduction of approximately $20,000 in local bank clearings this week under the record of last week was shown in a comparison of the two weeks obtained from Clearings Association figures. Clearings this week totaled $580,250.96 compared to $600,144.07 last week.

At no time during the week did the daily clearings reach the point recorded on May 29, when the total was $129,657.44, the highest mark in the last two weeks, while Tuesday's clearings, which totaled $116,878.04, was the highest point this week. The low point was $71,401.25 on Wednesday. The backward reason is given by bankers as the reason for the decline in clearings.

Industrial Stocks Continue to Give Way Under Heavy Sellin

BANKS PRESS MONEY MARKET

Few Near-Cornered. Pool Controlled Specialties Move Upward

Markets at a Glance
Industrial stocks, reactionary; railroad stocks, inactive; domestic bonds, reactionary; foreign bonds, reactionary; cotton, steady; grain, strong; oil, steady; copper, firm; rubber, steady; sugar, steady; pig iron, steady; and foreign exchange, steady.

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

New York, June 9.—Industrial stocks moved downward at the beginning of today's session in response to the prompt reversal of selling pressure on the speculative leaders in the motor car, copper, oil and steel stocks.

With the banks pressing the money market, the reserve board insisting on a reduction of member bank loan accounts, the commission houses demand for larger margins, the pools in many stocks ready to fold up their tents, the income investment appeal lacking in industrial dividend stocks, and the bears ready for an attack on the fast-moving market favorites, technical counting would hardly favor any upward trend in the prices at this juncture.

A few of the near-cornered and pool-controlled specialties were bucked upward by main force at the end of the first hour, as an evidence that the bulls have not abandoned control of the market, but tactics were not so simple. The political uncertainty of the next few weeks have placed the restraining hand upon many traders who might otherwise be more actively identified with stock movements, and in some of the big common stock houses the withdrawal of important traders was reported, for the political-convention period.

Emphatic denial by Packard officials of intended or contemplated merger with another motor car manufacturer induced liberal offering of that stock today, and the whole motor group edged up moderately in the first hour. Studebaker breaking to below 72, down nearly nine points from the recent peak. At 1 1/2% General Motors was also near the week's lowest price.

Italy Rejoices As Word From Nobile's Italia Is Received

DIRIGIBLE IS NORTH OF BASE

Exploration Ship Believed at Northeastern Extremity of Spitzbergen

Rome, June 9.—Gaily spread over all Italy today as the news was received that the Citta di Milano had been in communication by radio with the missing dirigible Italia for fully 20 minutes yesterday.

The base ship's radio operator received signals from the Italia at 7 p. m. last night. The message that followed revealed that the Italia was 20 miles north of Cape Leigh Smith, which is the northeastern extremity of Spitzbergen.

This position, given by the Italia, indicates that the dirigible is about 500 miles north of its base at King's Bay.

Although the commander of the Citta di Milano has no doubt as to the authenticity of the messages, he is still attempting to get the sender to confirm them by giving the signature of the Italia's radio operator—Bingi.

The steamer Hobby has been ordered to proceed as far north as possible and then dispatch dog-sleds to search the region whence the signals came for Gen. Umberto Nobile and the 17 men of his crew who have been missing since May 25.

As it is believed that the Italia's radio apparatus is better able to pick up messages from the San Paolo station here than those from the Citta di Milano, messages are being sent out hourly by the former station.

GOES TO PIECES
Battering Gales of Wind and Snow Too Much for Italia

London, June 9.—The polar exploration balloon Italia, which was forced down by a storm north of Spitzbergen on May 25, has gone to pieces under the battering of gales of wind and snow, according to a Central News dispatch from King's Bay this afternoon, quoting a wireless message the supply ship Citta di Milano is reported to have picked up from the Italia's crew.

The wireless operator on the Citta di Milano is now certain that he is in direct communication with Gen. Umberto Nobile's expedition, the dispatch added.

STUDENTS HELD

Officials Probe Series of Fires in College Town

Olivet, Mich., June 9.—Four students of Olivet College, including a star athlete, were under arrest today in connection with alleged arson plots as the state fire marshal's investigation turned to the $150,000 fire in Parson Hall last February.

Those under arrest are Paul Harris, 20, Grass Lake, Mich., well known athlete; Donald C. Smith, son of an Olivet minister; Edgar Goughney, of Grand Rapids; and Arnold Dulker, of Grand Rapids.

Smith is said by police to have continued setting fires in a fraternity house, for which the society collected $1,000 insurance.

The fraternity was in debt it is said. Harris denied he admitted having burned Parson Hall, men's dormitory, "to get a new dormitory for the boys," as claimed by officers.

COUNTY READY TO START ROAD WORK

Surface Treating to Get Under Way as Soon as Weather Settles

While wet weather of the last week has seriously hampered road work in the county, contractors and county officials are ready to resume activity with the first appearance of the sun.

Resurfacing operations are expected to start Monday if weather permits. Material arrived this week for the work. According to county officials dry weather is necessary for applying the top surface to improved roads.

Louis E. Dehner, of Tiffin, who was awarded the contract to resurface 49.1 miles of county roads, is ready to start to work with a favorable break in the weather. It was said today that the resurfacing work is to cost $1,162,422 and is to be completed by Aug. 15.

Improved roads in the vicinity of Morral will be the first to be treated, according to officials in the office of the county surveyor. Resurfacing work will necessitate a number of detours on county roads this summer, but due to the speed with which surface dressing is applied they are expected to be of short duration.

Provisions in the surface treating contract call for the application of more than 120,000 gallons of tar and asphalt to county roads this summer. Of this amount 50,536 will be coal tar, 70,465 gallons will be medium tar, and 50,735 gallons asphalt.

Wet weather of the past week has not only held up work on surface treating but has delayed work on a number of new roads now under construction.

Miss Enchant Forced to Stay On Ground by Weather

Trepassey, N. F., June 9.—Weather conditions today again disappointed Miss Enchant, Enchant, Wilmer, Stuts and Lou Gordon, who are eager to be off on their flight to England in the tri-motored Fokker monoplane Friendship.

Squalls, fog and adverse winds were reported over the Atlantic shipping lanes. Heavy rain continued to fall here and a murky fog shrouded the entire region.

The leak in one of the plane's tanks was repaired by Gordon and only the weather is keeping the fliers back now. Yesterday, they went trout fishing to pass the time.

ELECTRIC INDUSTRY URGED TO ADVERTISE

Necessary in All Lines of Modern Business, Speaker Declares

Atlantic City, June 9.—With the electric light and power industry on the threshold of developments surpassing even the advances of the past decade, it has reached a stage requiring a widespread, comprehensive and consistent advertising program, it was declared before the National Electric Light Association here by J. E. Davidson, vice president and general manager of the Nebraska Power Co., Omaha.

"We live in an era when sound business turns wholeheartedly to advertising," he said. "It has been employed by great public corporations. Securities that show consistent market increases are those of organizations that advertise. Even the most conservative bankers are not too proud to offer their wares in print, and these same financial supervisors look askance at the would-be borrower who does not advertise his product." Sustained advertising and a sales promotion drive would instill in the entire consuming public, he said, an "electrical consciousness." He mentioned numerous fields of added business for itself which the industry could develop through such a course.

Oswald W. Knauth, vice president of R. H. Macy & Co., New York, said: "The necessity of sound merchandising is far greater today than 25 years ago. There are more good merchants in the field and competition is infinitely keener. We cannot afford loose methods or loose thinking if we are to stay in business. Good merchandising demands that a store carry such items of a product as constitutes a complete selection." He stressed the necessity of building good-will by satisfying the customer.

First Definite Step Taken in Plans For Beautifying Marion's Highway Routes

Planting of Vines and Flowering Plants Along Marion-Delaware Road Ordered; Program Sponsored by Real Estate Board and Altrusa Club

The first definite step in a program of beautifying the highway into Marion was taken this week when H. T. Lewis, president of the Marion Real Estate Board, instructed the Harmon Nursery to plant vines and flowering plants along the Marion-Delaware road. Preliminary plans in connection with the planting of the vines were worked out by a committee of the Altrusa Club. The committee is composed of Mrs. A. M. Hutchinson, 130 E. 1st St.; Mrs. L. E. Filling, 193 E. 1st St.; Mrs. G. L. Dombach, 410 E. 1st St.; Mrs. L. A. Bowen, 111 S. High St.; and Mrs. L. C. Cunningham, 707 N. Vernon St.

The Altrusa Club committee has obtained permission of farm owners along the Marion-Delaware road from the Harding Memorial to the Marion County Children's Home to plant the vines along fence rows. The vines are to be planted alternately along both sides of the road. Distance from the Memorial to the Children's Home is approximately one mile.

Expense of planting the vines is being borne by the Altrusa Club and the Marion Real Estate Board.

EIGHT FROM HERE IN LIST OF GRADUATES

Included Among 1,200 To Receive Degrees at O. S. U. Monday

Eight Marion students are included in the class of 1,200 scheduled for graduation in the fifty-first annual commencement at Ohio State University, Monday, according to an announcement received from the University today.

The Marion students and the degrees they are to receive are: Harold DeCoursey Goodsell, pharmacy; Harold Wellington Wilson, metallurgical engineering; Warren Clifton Leeks, electrical engineering; Charles Milford Schenck, civil engineering; Robert Henry Ruhl, commerce and administration; Marjorie Lucille Weiner, bachelor of arts; Ralph Eugene Carhart, bachelor of arts; Dorothy Ruth Mitchell, home economics.

With those graduated in the three previous quarterly convocations, the present class brings the total number of degrees granted by Ohio State this year to 1,800, the greatest in its history. The 1928 class is approximately 300 times the size of that of the first class, graduated 50 years ago.

The present class will be the first to be graduated in the Ohio Stadium. The exercises will be held Monday night, June 11, with Dr. W. O. Thompson, for 26 years president of the university, and now its president emeritus, as the speaker.

"San Luis Rey" to Be

NEWS OF MOVIES IN CINEMA CAPITAL

Filmed on M.-G.-M. Lot

By LOUELLA G. PARSONS
Star Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, June 8—All the film companies in Hollywood seem to be motivated by one idea—to acquire possession of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

Not that the novel is particularly adaptable film material, but its name has such wide selling power. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer captured the plum. And now there are discussions on when and how it will be filmed.

With over one million readers and adjudged by experts as the best seller of 1928, M.-G.-M. will have to cater to many tastes in filming the book. Nearly every one of these individual readers has an idea of how the characters look and act.

One thing I hope M.-G.-M. will do, and that is to keep the simplicity that is the keynote of Thornton Wilder's novel and the thing that makes it such an interesting book. I almost forgot to say this book won the Pulitzer prize; also, that the film will have an all-star cast.

THE most talked about movie right now is "The Dirigible," John Monk Saunders' story.

I almost said "sequel" to "Wings," but, although it's a story of the air, I am sure it isn't a sequel.

Kay Way has been chosen to play the part of the girl. Miss Way has an interesting personality, but often she seems to me to be inexperienced and to need careful direction. Let's hope she gets it with William Wellman directing.

Arnold Kent also has been signed. Kent, they tell me, walked away with a picture he made recently. I wouldn't mention names because the star is a friend of mine.

Something is doing at the United Artists studios for Cecil DeMille. It doesn't take a private detective to figure that. They are building offices for C. D. and it's dollars to doughnuts he will occupy them.

Looks as if Pathe is getting rid of all its high priced talent.

Rod La Rocque's option was not taken up. That shouldn't worry Rod with 50 jobs lined up waiting for him—among them "The Show Boat" if he wants it.

His last picture for De Mille is "Captain Swagger," which is now being directed by E. H. Griffith.

Along the movie rialto one picks up many bits of news:

One can always be sure the serials are going right along, for from Universal comes word that William Desmond is about to make "The Mystery Rider" with Jack Nelson directing. Arthur Lake, who is in the midst of his "Horse of Hollywood" series, has had his contract renewed. And while he had his pen in hand, Carl Laemmle just signed Duane Thompson on a five-year contract.

Helen Douglas is back in the Good Samaritan Hospital, where she has had to undergo another operation on her hip. However, we hear she is getting along nicely and hopes soon to be out again.

It looks very much to me as if Lewis Milestone, the director, is about to get a trip abroad. Some of these directors have all the luck!

Milestone has been chosen by How-ard Hughes to direct Wilson Mizner's story of the sinking of the Titanic. You will remember it's a tale of a gambler who plied his trade across the Atlantic. Louis Wolheim has one of the leading roles.

Now Caddo believes some of the Atlantic tragedy should be filmed on the other side. So it looks as though some of the exteriors, at least, will be made there. Wonder if Louis Wolheim gets in on the European jaunt?

Gas Plays An Important Part

If you, as an individual, were thinking of moving today, you would not so much as consider a house if it were not served by gas.

Industry is no different. When it seeks a new location it investigates, asking, first of all, if the city can promise an adequate supply of gas. Unless the city can both promise it and fulfill its promise, industry looks to other cities for more advantageous opportunities.

Marion's future growth depends on what the city has to offer industry.

Your Gas Company knows that a dependable supply of gas for every purpose is of utmost importance to Marion's industrial welfare, and is anxious to aid the city in giving this advantage to industry.

All Your Gas Company asks in return is Marion's recognition that, in the face of increasing production and delivery costs, Gas Is Worth More.

Will Rogers Dishes Up Dope on Production of Talking Pictures on Silver-Screen in City of "Make Believe"

By WILL ROGERS

Back to the Circus for the Animals!

WELL, all I know is just what I read in the papers and what I hear to the ground. Let's get off politics and corruption and international relations and Texas and Boulder dams and farm relief and get down and speak to everybody in their native tongue.

What you say we have a little chat on the movies? Haven't dished out any movie scandal to you in a long time.
Well, I have been out here now for about six weeks, and it's just kinder the off season. Spring marrying is about over and summer divorces haven't quite got going good. But here is something that might be a lot of news to you. I was just talking to some of the biggest men in the whole industry and they told me some very surprising things, they say that the whole business is undergoing a great change.
That in four or five years you will look back and laugh at yourself for ever having sit for hours and just looked at pictures with no voice or no sound.

New Developments

I am not very much of a movie fan and don't get around much, but I had just thought that the "Talking Pictures" were a kind of a fad, and that they would die out like they did years ago when they tried to start them. But these men told me of the millions and millions of dollars that they are spending in talking equipment. All the big companies have made contracts with the General Electric (I think that's the one that holds most of the patents on the sound) and they are all going in for it heavy. These men said that movies now are as much in their infancy as when years ago we all got excited over "The Great Train Robbery" in some Nickelodeon. They say that the talk and sounds have just begun to develop.

That the ones you hear now are very crude in comparison to the ones you will get in a year or so. Sound is in about the stage that photography was in movies 15 years ago. Every picture will bring new developments.

The whole business out here is sacred cuckoo. The girl that left a ribbon counter and won a Beauty contest and then was made a "Star" overnight. Just because somebody told her every move to make and when to smile, she can just see her finish. It looks like it is getting into the days of the Actor. That's one thing where the stage always had it on the Movies, you couldn't be a stage actor overnight. That had to come with years of experience. You got to do something beside being photographed on the old stage.

Movie 'em Up

I saw a picture the other night that used the talk. It's called the "Lion and the Mouse," and Old boy from the Stage Actor does show up the Movie ones! Lionel Barrymore even as a Villain, and Alec Francis, another splendid stage actor, just made you wish the others hadn't talked! The town is clogging up with Stage people. The Movie ones can't keep their mind on over one thing at a time, and that was "How am I looking?" While the old stage fellow, that's how he gets his expression in through what he has to say. Let him speak the lines and the expression will take care of themselves. Then you see the Director cant holler out and tell you what to do, when to back up, when to smile and when to "Register" indignation. If he did holler it would be heard on the record, so he has to trust his acting to the Actor, and in order to trust his acting to the actor he has to have an Actor to trust it too.

You will see a great improvement in the "Titles." These beautiful, sounding phrases may read all right when they are on there in print alone, but when some live moving character reads says them they sound funny. We never thought before that Real Human beings wouldn't use such words. But now the Titles that the Actors speak have got to be something that the man would really say under those circumstances, and not something that read good when the Title Writer "tapped" it out of some book. It's going to make pictures about twice as Human.

Course for awhile they will lose part of their audience, for with this new intelligence coming in, suddenly there is going to be a lot of Movie fans that can't stand it, and they will drift to the Radio, where they will hear the announcer say: "I have some Telegrams here that I would like to read."
—"Program coming in one, Colquhoun Kiwanian Club." But I hear real trained Actors (that never won any contest in their lives) speak real lines that real human beings would utter, why are you going to drag a new recruit back to the "Cinema?"

Back to the Ring
Your trained dogs and your trained horses can outdraw the movie stars, but when it gets down to acting and talking in a natural way, why the animals will have to go back to the circuses. Each big company is putting in studios in Los Angeles and New York too. They also have the sound recording apparatus so arranged that they have them on a kind of trucks and they can haul them easily anywhere and record a speech or event at its original place the same as they can take the pictures there with a camera. There is about a thousand theaters equipped now with the means of showing sound pictures, and they are equipping others just as fast as possible. These movie magnates said

"All the great dramatic stage actors, that wasn't any good for the movie men, because they showed their age, they will be able to go on now and give the whole people all over the world a chance to see and hear their wonderful voices, even if they have no eyes open!"

They say that the Keaders and John McDonoughs can make more from their few records on the screen than in all their travel and concert work, and Hollywood won't be so dumb as to lose more people can see and really hear! here.

them, at one third the price they have! (Copyright 1928, by the McNaught

RAICHELY WILL CASE IS SET FOR MONDAY

Goes Before Wyandot County Court on Change of Venue Order

The case was granted by Judge George B. Seidell, who designated that the case should go to Wyandot County, due to the proximity of that court. The application for change of venue filed by Mrs. Rose A. Hefflinger, of Norwalk, one of the relatives of Burr Raicheley, who is attempting to set aside the will, was based on the claim that the Marion Masonic Co., the chief beneficiary of the estate, has more than 50 stockholders residing in Marion County and also that the Federated Women's Club, another beneficiary institution named in the will, has a membership far in excess of 50. These circumstances, it was maintained, created danger of being unable to obtain an impartial jury here.

The statute provides that where there are more than 50 resident stockholders of a corporation involved in a court action, a change of venue shall be granted.

In granting the change of venue Judge Seidell explained that he wanted to eliminate every vestige of doubt regarding the plaintiffs getting a fair trial.

In their petition the plaintiffs, relatives of Raicheley, claim that the will dated Jan. 4, 1924, and admitted to probate on April 21, 1924, is not the valid last will and testament of Burr Raicheley, whose death occurred here March 9, 1924. They ask the court to pass on the validity of the will.

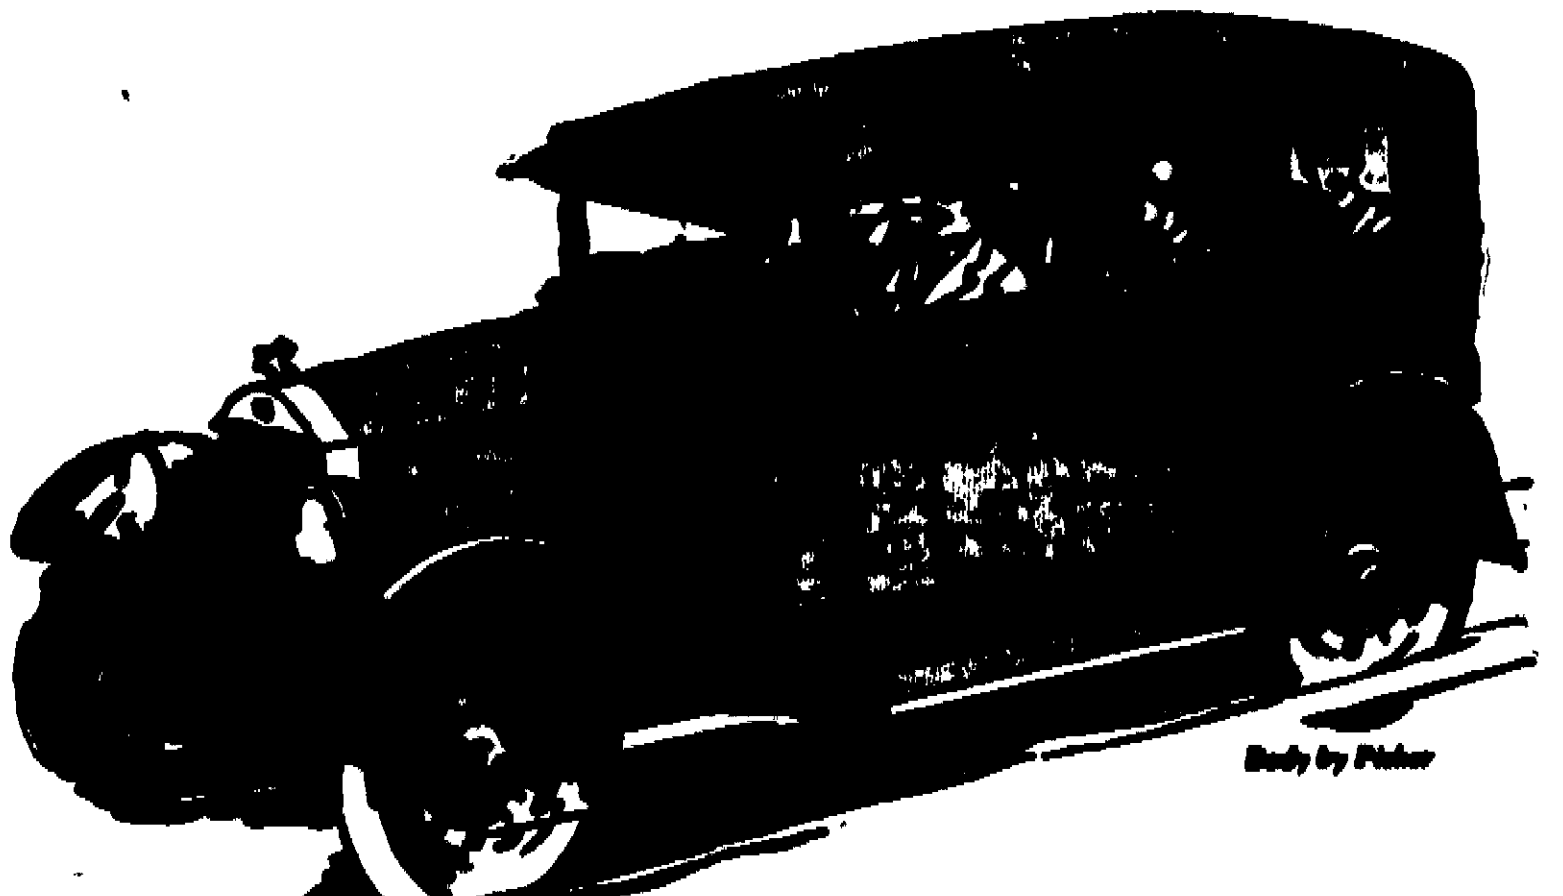

Appraisal Figures
The estate, valued at $175,028.22, according to the inventory filed on Probate Court, includes $300 in personal goods and chattels, $1,075 in cash in bank deposits, $107,252.20 in securities, and $65,500 in real estate. The securities which made up the bulk of the estate were 95 Liberty Bonds of $1,000 denominations with accrued interest, of $224.20, and 104 shares of stock in the Columbus Street Railway Co., valued at $12,028.

The real estate holdings, consisting chiefly of a tract of several lots on E. Church-st., opposite the postoffice on which is located the former Raicheley residence. This property is valued at $65,500. Three other lots on Pennsylvania are valued at $2,500.

The will left the following bequest: May Berg, $2,000; Fred Raicheley, $2,000; Clyde C. Smith, $2,000; Harry J. Merchant, $2,000; Mrs. W. J. Grilla, $2,000; Ruth Porter, $1,000; Drough Brown, $2,000; Federated Women's Club of Marion, $5,000; and an additional $5,000 for a memorial tablet to the Raicheley family to be placed in the Marion Masonic Temple.

The remainder of the estate, including real estate and personal property not included in other bequests, went to the Marion Masonic Co. for the use of

SETTLEMENT LOOMS FOR FARM PROBLEM

American Farm Bureau Federation Seeks Pledge of Relief from Party

Reed, June 9.—While a vast army of farmers were dropping their plans to 11 midwestern states to demand equality for agriculture from the Republican national convention, there appeared hope today for a peaceful settlement of the dispute over a farm relief plank in the Republican platform.

The action of the American Farm Bureau Federation in asking a farm relief pledge without specific mention of the McNary-Haugen bill or highly colored "equalization fees" paved the way to an amiable compromise of the 160,000 battle. The administration and Hoover camps hailed the federation's recommendation with delight.

The farm groups declared the federation has asserted the principle "equality for agriculture" for which they were fighting.

The federation demanded that the Republican party, and the Democratic, too, pledge itself to the enactment of legislation securing to agriculture a place of equality with industry and labor.

"72" the greatest fact in motor cars today

From low price to high, all engineering today takes its cue from Chrysler—yet what are the facts?

Run the gamut of cars, from lowest to highest, which seek to emulate Chrysler—and still the illustrious Chrysler "72" runs easily away from them all with all the honors of finishing, efficient performance!

However much they seek to act like Chrysler "72"—to ride and drive and accelerate and glide like Chrysler "72"—the illustrious "72" continues to leave them all in the rear in brilliant behavior.

There is no escaping this plain fact—that no motor car manufacturing concern today anyone who pays as much as, or up to a thousand dollars more than the price of Chrysler "72," for another car unless it is a very good one.

one great important fact in motor car buying today.

But there is no occasion to become excited over a little thing like that. Between the present time and next November there will be a lot of utterances along political lines which will not be wholly true.

Not Free from Selfishness.

There's a strong possibility that newspaper readers may get the wrong slant on the revelations resulting from the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the great volume of propaganda put out by the electric power interests against the Boulder Dam project; at least that they may draw the wrong conclusion from it.

It is always possible that the investigation has been brought about, directly or indirectly, through the efforts of the proponents of the dam who will probably profit in the event of its construction. If such is the case, they can not seriously be blamed for "playing the game" to advance their interests. On the other hand, there is no reason why the electric power interests should not oppose the construction of the dam if they believe that its construction and operation will prove inimical to them, and there is nothing illegal in their action in putting out a flood of propaganda to influence the public against its construction. So long as they expend money legitimately in spreading their propaganda, whether in buying newspaper advertising, or in hiring speakers to address gatherings, or in sending out literature, we can not feel that they are violating business ethics, but there may be question of the ethics of introducing their propaganda into colleges and schools, as they are charged as having done, by hiring college professors and school instructors to champion their cause. It is hardly in accord with the eternal fitness of things that those under salary for teaching in schools and colleges should be working either for or against public ownership of public utilities.

As we get the situation, if reproach attaches, it rests largely against the instructors who have accepted such employment, although we are glad to concede that many of them may be entirely innocent of intent at wrongdoing. If it accomplishes nothing more, the investigation of the Federal Trade Commission will bring out the fact that much, if not almost all, of the matter on which the public has been fed has been propaganda and the forces behind the propaganda will be made plain. It will also identify the instructors who have been active in the contest between the two forces for pay. Both of these developments should prove beneficial.

A Matter of Geography.

The case of the man in a neighboring state who was sentenced to prison for life upon his conviction of having in his possession a pint of whiskey has been the subject of much comment. As it is ordinarily put, he was committed for life without hope of a parole or pardon because of his possession of a pint of liquor. Of course, he wasn't given the sentence for any such reason. It was pronounced upon him by reason of his conviction for the fourth time of a felony, the possession of the liquor being a felony under the law. In other words, his life sentence was due to the fact that he was an old offender against the law. Whether the possession of a pint of liquor should constitute a felony is not the question, although it may be debatable; it is the law.

A somewhat similar case is reported from Oakland, out in California, which state has a law patterned after the New York Baumes law. Mrs. Evelyn Rosenkrantz, an aviatrix who had planned a transatlantic flight, faces a life sentence in San Quentin prison as a result of her conviction on a charge of passing a worthless check for $100, she having been convicted three times previously of passing bogus $100 checks.

"Here," said the trial judge, Fred V. Wood, in commenting on the woman's case, "is a woman convicted four times of cashing bad checks for a total of $400. She must go to the penitentiary for life without the right of pardon. We have just convicted in this court a man, Arthur Antoine, of brutally murdering his wife and dismembering her body in order that he might marry a younger woman. He also is sentenced to life imprisonment, but will be eligible for parole after ten years. This is contrary to justice, admitting this woman is guilty of all charges against her."

Judge Wood certainly makes a strong case against the justice of such a law, against the justice of administering more severe punishment for the cashing of four $100 worthless checks than is ordered administered for the extraordinarily brutal murder he cites. But he fails to offer the solution; he fails to tell whether the fourth offense feature of the law should be repealed, or life sentence without possibility of parole or pardon be pronounced for murder.

And there is another phase of the matter. This California woman is sentenced to life imprisonment for cashing four bogus $100 checks. Here in Ohio the same thing has been done, the amounts being different, time and time again. We have known of cases of the kind right here in Marion county in which the one guilty of cashing worthless checks escaped arrest by making good the amounts received on them, the felonies being compounded by those holding the checks. In one state, a life sentence. In another, freedom. No hope of parole or pardon in one state. In the other, a short prison sentence the most severe punishment probable, if any at all.

It's not the legal view, of course, but to a layman it would seem that the measure of punishment for crime in the same land should not be regulated by geographical lines.

A Geneva cable says the St. Gotthard gun seizure is a closed incident, the League of Nations having failed to locate the destination of the machine guns. We thought that would be the outcome, with Mussolini looking at it.

Dr. R. W. Scott, professor of medicine in Western Reserve university, told a professional gathering up in Cleveland that nature carries us along till we are forty and then unconsciously drops us to shift for ourselves. Didn't Dr. Osler beat him to that conclusion by something like two decades?

Supreme Air Achievement.

The mighty Pacific has been spanned by air for the first time. "The Southern Cross," carrying the two Australians, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles Ulm, and the two Americans, Harry W. Lyon and James Warner, has arrived safely at Brisbane on its 7,778-mile voyage from Oakland, California, to Sydney, Australia. The remainder of the flight, which will probably be accomplished before we go to press with another issue, will be over land. If it is successfully made it will naturally add finish to the performance, but even should mishap occur on the remaining leg of the voyage, that thus far made must stand out as the greatest air adventure of record. Already "The Southern Cross" has attained a record for the longest flight over water and the longest flight of any kind, the limited number of hops considered, but the supreme phase of the exploit, as we see it, was the accuracy with which the 3,138-mile course from the Hawaiian Islands to Suva was followed. It is one thing to hit a continent across a sea. It is another thing to hit a little island yet further distant in the middle of a greater sea. To Colonel Lindbergh will always be given the honor and glory of having shown the possibility of non-stop ocean flights, the honor and glory of blazing the way, but to this Australian-American quartet of adventurous aviators must be given the honor of having made the supreme aviation achievement.

The Chicago crime commission holds that the strangle hold vice has on the big city on Lake Michigan leads back to the gambling of the early 1900's. Not so surprising. Gambling has led to many reigns of vice and, unless suppressed, may lead to one here in our home city. Stranger things have happened.

For the benefit of those who always want the exact figures, it may now be stated that congress voted the expenditure of $4,628,045-035, no part of which was for the carrying out of the cruiser program to maintain the 5-5-2 naval ratio with Great Britain and Japan.

Accidentally shot in the head by a companion, the bullet penetrating his brain two inches, a thirteen-year-old Indianapolis boy feared to tell his parents and attended school the following day until the pain of the wound became unbearable, when he was taken to a hospital, where the physicians are of the belief that he will recover. And but a few days ago a well-known eastern physician died as the result of the scratch of a pin. Actually, one is tempted to lean a bit to the old-time Presbyterian belief of predestination.

DID SOMEBODY CALL ME?

Infant Should Sleep Alone.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Not long ago I read a shocking story in a Washington paper. Twenty-nine Virginia babies died in 1928 from suffocation. Sleeping with their mothers, they were rolled upon or had the bed clothing wrapped about them in such manner as to cause death.

Let no other baby meet such a fate! It is needless disaster. No baby should sleep in the bed of the mother. It is cruelty of the first degree to permit such a thing.

Just because a baby is such a tiny thing you may overlook the importance of air space. You may imagine it is all right to tuck it away in the corner of the bed.

But because it is so tiny and frail you must take the greatest pains to guard it from harm. You must make sure it gets all the pure air it must have if it is to be well and strong.

A baby born into a home of six rooms has three times the chance to live that a baby has born into a home of two rooms. This is a statement founded on studies made a few years ago.

The larger home has more air space. The baby isn't tucked away in a corner. There is room for all the other members of the family without crowding the baby.

But even if the home is a mansion, the mother's bed is no place for the baby to sleep. It is entitled to a bed of its own.

The day of the crib has not passed and should never pass. But if there is no crib, there may be a baby carriage. If there is no carriage, there is a toy clothes basket. If there is no basket, anybody can get a wicker box or other small dry-goods box.

Surely it does not take great ingenuity to provide some sort of a device for holding the infant. In this can be made up a comfortable and safe bed.

But whether the infant has an elaborate crib or a simple substitute, do not drag that into an airless closet or out-of-the-way corner. Place it where the air is pure and sweet.

The infant needs nine-tenths of its time in sleep. This fact calls attention to the necessity of having those long hours spent in fresh air. This is the price of health.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

F. H. M. Q.—What is the normal blood pressure of a six-year-old child?

A.—Will high altitude permanently relieve asthma?

The Stars in the Blood.

BY GARRETT P. SERVICE.

The late Dr. Eysenheimer left a description of the white corpuscles in the blood which is calculated to keep their memory fresh in the minds of thousands for whom those strange microscopic cells have been hardly more than names "passing in and out of the body and out of the body."

There are two sorts of cells, or corpuscles, in the blood, as everybody has been told, the white and the red. We hear most of the latter, and of the dire effects that result when they become too few. The red corpuscles number several millions in every blood-drop; the white ones number only some hundreds of thousands in the same space.

These," says Dr. Eysenheimer, "have the form, when they are killed and stained for microscopic examination, of irregular stars. In life they change their shape by their own inherent qualities."

The substance of these little stars is called protoplasm. Each star has at its center a little ball called a nucleus.

Now for the work which these stars of the blood are set to do. You have doubtless read that they protect the body against disease. But hear Dr. Eysenheimer's account of that:

When disease-producing bacteria have gained entrance to the body a great army of these white cells, which ordains are floating in the blood, hurry through the walls of the blood vessels and hasten to the spot where the bacteria are located. They immediately engage in conflict with the bacteria and consume them.

The white cells usually attack only a foreign foe, but at times they turn upon their fellows, the special cells which hitherto they have protected, and destroy them.

Thus as science goes on overthrowing the superstitious notions of the past which considered action was ascribed to inanimate things, its own discoveries furnish new material and fresh opportunity for the imagination to exercise its powers of analogical representation. And how drab and dull would human knowledge appear if it were never illuminated by these mental pictures! How immensely the interest is increased in our own fate when we are told of these "battles," and "marches," these "rallies," and "attacks," of offensive and defensive "armies," hurrying through the avenues of circulation where flows the blood, and struggling in the tissues and organs where the citadels of life are placed. And to think that even the question of loyalty may enter into the story of the doings of the microscopic defenders of the blood!

Dr. Eysenheimer thus illustrates some of the consequences that follow when the white corpuscular army turns upon its own wards: "All of us know that the common polio or tadpole changes in some way into a frog. The most obvious external changes are the disappearance of legs and the disappearance of the tail. This latter change is due to the fact that an army of white blood cells "marches" into the tail and devours the other cells which form it."

In this case, however, there is evidently no mutiny of the army of white cells; they are simply by some law of their organization, when a critical stage of the body's growth is reached, turned from defenders into executioners. But there are cases in which real mutiny occurs, in which the white corpuscles, instead of being turned against the tissues, urge them to wanton destruction as in cancer.

The white, or star, cells are still to a considerable extent mysterious. They are always present in inflammation and where wounds are healing. By a special serum their activity can be diminished, but no way has yet been found to stimulate them to increased action.—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

Just Things

BY EMMA E. DUTTON—STARS AND PALATES

Isn't it painful and sometimes almost flustering to find that some one we had listed as the wamp's dental cream, had just such common, everyday, pieb ideas as ourselves? Of course we all have to eat, and so some one is just a little bit different than the ordinary run of mine folk, we figure that they certainly must choose their food as they do their raiment, to sort of fit their looks and personality. But I guess it isn't true. (Can you imagine Lew Cody, the handsome dog, who I am sure would look positively grieved if anything like a particle of his Sunday suit, falling to, before a dish of corned beef and cabbage with a gusto that would make Mr. Jiggs look like a "has been.") That and black tea with every meal is what he falls for, I am told. The fair Norma Shearer, whom you would say didn't do nothing less than butterfly hearts, has a penchant for lamb chops, the humble carrot, steamed, raisin toast, black tea, pineapple and cream. Little Lillian Gish, who is daintiness personified, and to whom you wouldn't so much as croak your turn on the weep, has a salad complex, mixing grapefruit and avocado with French dressing. Masterful John Gilbert, the guy that makes every girl some time in her life, went to London in for foreign stuff, and likes imported Swiss cheese and braided ham, a la sandwich. Chicken and cold slaw on Russian rye bread is another favorite. John Crawford likes his cosmopolitan cold, his crackers smeared with mustard, and tops the whole works off with fresh apple pie, from which he eats the stuffing and invariably leaves the crust.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

You can't tell much about names either. I once visited a museum and among the attractions offered was a new home. I urged my weary dogs from one tank to another, keeping a weather eye out for a container which I felt would necessarily have to be of a size to give a nag chance to turn around in, but when I did find what was catalogued as the crutier, it wasn't any bigger than a good minnie bait. It got the name because it had a head like a horse.

NEIGHBORS

It's a pretty decent old world after all. With all the turbulent and for the most part, careworn events in the day's day, there are things happening right along to warm the cockles of one's heart. In a little village near here folks have been busy as beavers helping one of their neighbors get "set up" after a fire, in which they lost their home and furniture. One day the women folk got together and how the needles did fly making bed clothing. It was an all-day meeting with a picnic dinner at noon. Can't you just imagine the cat? Later on there will be a shower in which everything was to be found by way of outfitting a kitchen. And there's our very own City Union of King's Daughters which is carrying out the program of helping Mr. Bill, the blind, home-maker, save his home. It's a far cry from charity, it's being real neighbors.

CONTRIBUTE $25

Members of Epworth AM Vets Donated to G. M. Stone Fund.

Members of the General AM Society of Epworth M. E. Church met yesterday afternoon in the junior room with Mrs. F. E. Howell in charge of donations. The sum of $25 was contributed towards the Bill Home Fund, being sponsored by the City Union of King's Daughters, and an announcement made to the effect that members must turn in their money for the treasury at the next meeting was made. The books will be closed for the year at this meeting. July 13 the Aid will meet in the junior room of the church.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN

She was presented a gift of silver. A social hour was enjoyed and luncheon served. The farewell class meeting will be held Thursday, June 21, at the home of Mrs. A. Rinehart, Prospect-st.

SOCIAL AT CHURCH

An unusually well-attended ice cream social was given by members of the junior department of Fite Memorial Baptist Church last night in the basement of the church. Luculent weather prevented giving the party on the lawn as scheduled. Martin Smith, superintendent of the junior department, was in charge of arrangements.

NOBILS

Another Well-Known Citizen Put On His Feet Again

What Next Will Famous Sykodoner Do?

Demonstration Free.

The work of the famous Sykodoner has been so wonderful, and so numerous, that it no longer need cause surprise. For instance: Mr. Ray Coleman, 113 Water Street, Carlington, Ohio, a well-known citizen, suffered long and much, with a complication of diseases. Physician after physician had been consulted. But, no one seemed to know just what was wrong.

Friends offered that one remedy, then another. It was to no avail, however. For Mr. Coleman's case grew worse, almost from one day to another. His stomach was in such a weakened condition, that he had to deny himself almost everything, especially the good things that grow in the garden. Kidneys almost failed entirely; and the bowels had to take up this added burden, with usual result—chronic diarrhoea. Stomach and bowels were badly inflamed; many thought it was T. B. of the bowels. He suffered with severe headaches, numbness of the hands and feet, pain in stomach, bowels, hands, toes and back. Sleep was very much disturbed. He became a very much discouraged man, and had decided that there was no use to try anything more. Learning of the wonderful results obtained by friends—through the use of the wonderful Sykodoner, Mr. Coleman also decided to try just once more. This surely proved a blessing. For, although Mr. Coleman had been confined to his bed, weak, sick and discouraged all summer, he now began to improve right along. He could now eat anything and everything he wanted—even onions, lettuce and other vegetables—again able to drink water freely; and was up on his feet, sleeping well, bowels normal, no more pain, or numbness, but now happy and contented. Yes, and the cure was pleasant this season, too. While the blood poisoning of his hands is also a thing of the past.

Phone 2700, for free demonstration, either in office, 513 S. Greenwood St., Marion, Ohio, or in the comfort of your own home, for the most convincing phenomena of all your life. This will not obligate you in any way. No drug, surgery, serum, or even rubbing. The most delightful in experience—no shock or inconvenience of any kind. Not even the removal of a garment. Send, daily—8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Also Sunday forenoons.

Do a kind act by sending this to an afflicted friend.—Adv.
